

D. L. C. writes to day
(22) that he will take charge of the stand, if his wife will assist him in the selections, which she will do. The great petition was to be presented on the 20th when they expected a flare up.
I hope the Phila
prejudices may be allayed. It comes of Earle & his influence greatly. He hates a whig worse if possible than they

Child does a
Calvanist —
Though I have no sympathy with David tariff views, I can tolerate them — & do not conceive that his concession with Anti Slavery destroys his right to preach
tariff or Bank policy, wherever & whenever he pleases
even in a Whig meeting. That is not necessarily compromise
a. s. principles —
